The 2007 test fee is still $14.00 and goes to ARRL/VEC. Bring a photo ID (or two non-photo ID's); if currently licensed, bring the original and a photocopy of your valid FCC license; and if you are claiming credit for successful completion of an exam, bring the original and photocopy of any applicable CSCE's.

Well, it is that time of year to make our New Year Resolutions. Here are a few suggestions for us HAMS'

- Get on the air more, you worked hard to get that license, use it.
- Finish at least one of your amateur radio projects that you started earlier
- Get acquainted with the new band plan, and changes in licensing.
- Introduce someone to HAM radio, and help them become an Amateur Radio Operator. and bring them to a club meeting.
- Help to keep up the tradition of respect and pride that amateur radio deserves.
- If we do even one of the above things, that will be a great accomplishment.

73's Bonnie, WBØWAP

From The President's Desk
Mark - NØZOF

New Beginnings: This is the first news letter of the New Year and as your new president I am excited about 2007. The coming months will see some changes as you are all aware. Field day will be a little different this year. The changes in the FCC spectrum allocation will allow us to make better use of the operating frequencies and hopefully the band conditions will begin to improve this year. This cycle promises to be outstanding when it peaks so we should see lots of good conditions in the months ahead. If you have other suggestions or have programs in mind you would like to see this year please let me know. Contesting? Special Events? Public Service? Lets make this year special for all of us.

Happy New Year

DX & Computer Horizons
January 2007
by Cliff Ahrens K0CA

As we celebrate the holidays and usher in the year 2007, there's lots of exciting DX and FCC news. The big news is that on December 19, the FCC released its Report and Order which eliminates the Morse code exam requirement for all Amateur Radio license classes, and gives Technician and Technician Plus licensees identical operating privileges. The effective date of the changes is uncertain, but it could be as early as February, 2007. The changes do not take effect until 30 days after publication of the Report and Order in the Federal Register.

As reported last month, the FCC "omnibus" amateur radio Report and Order which became effective December 15, 2006, expanded the phone bands on 80 and 40 meters, and made other changes to amateur radio operating privileges. Check out the new operating privileges and download the chart at:

The New Year: Celebrate Good Fortune & Good Food

Celebration of the New Year has been tied to food and the harvest for more than 4,000 years.

New Year's celebrations have evolved into social occasions when wishes for good fortune and prosperity are exchanged, often in the form of food. In the U.S., how you celebrate is often a function of your own cultural heritage: Southerners swear by black-eyed peas for good luck during the year, and German-Americans wouldn't dream of starting the New Year without pork and sauerkraut.

New Year's celebrations exist in virtually every country in the world. In some, the advent of the New Year is the most culturally significant holiday, while in others it is merely one of the Twelve Days of Christmas, which end with the Feast of the Epiphany on January 6. Some are:

African-American: While New Year's Day falls within the contemporary celebration of Kwanzaa, it is also referred to as Emancipation Day or Jubilee Day. On New Year's Day in 1863, the Emancipation Proclamation announcing the abolition of slavery was read in Boston. Today, "watch services" are still held in many African-American churches in observance of that day. Among the foods associated with the New Year, some African customs have become traditional like the serving of ham hocks, black-eyed peas, collard greens and macaroni and cheese. Benné wafers (sesame and cheese "coins"), which represent money, are also popular as symbols of future prosperity.

Greece: The Greeks celebrate the beginning of the New Year by sharing traditional sweet bread into which a coin has been baked. The bread is sliced at midnight and whoever gets the coin is believed to have good luck for the year.

Ireland: The Celtic New Year was traditionally November 1 – the first day of winter. The wealthiest villager generally slaughtered and roasted a pig (or some animal), inviting all of the villagers to a celebration. Children were also given oranges on New Year's Day as a special treat.

Mexico: In Mexico, the Christmas celebration of posadas culminates on January 6 in the Fiesta de los Reyes. On that day, the King's Cake (rosca de reyes) is served. The cake is formed into a ring to symbolize a crown, and a doll is hidden in the dough. The one who finds the doll becomes the king for the day and must select a queen. The "royal" couple then must host a party on Candlemas (February 2), when candles are lit for purification of the Virgin Mary.

Poland: The Poles celebrate the New Year much as we do in the U.S., with much celebration on New Year's Eve. New Year's Day festivities might include a hayride into the forest where a bonfire is set and sausages and bigos are served (with a little bit of the hair of the dog).

Wales: For the Welsh, like the Scots, the New Year's celebration is a much bigger occasion than Christmas, especially as a feast day. The Welsh New Year actually occurs on January 13 and traditional foods include a roast goose, potato pudding and rice pudding.

Following are a couple of recipes that I found on Google Search that sounded easy and good.

Piglet's New Years Recipes

From: Piglet

Flang a bunch of black-eyed peas together with some onions, a touch of garlic, a hambone, and (here's where my Texan ancestors come in) a couple of dried red chiles.....

Do a load of cornbread in a cast iron skillet in the oven (Mexican cornbread, ie with peppers and whole corn is acceptable; sugar is *not*), and pile those peas on the cornbread.

That's the Southern side of the family.....from spouse's side we get breakfast:

Take the last of the homemade Polish sausage from Christmas, should you manage to have hid some, chop into tiny bits, and scramble with eggs.

Non- Alcoholic Mock Champaign

1- bottle (64 oz.) white grape juice

1- 2 liter bottle of Sprite

Mix the juice and sprite in equal amounts.

Garnish with orange slices, maraschino cherries, or strawberries.

RECIPE FOR A HAPPY NEW YEAR

Take twelve whole months.
Clean them thoroughly of all bitterness,
hate, and jealousy.
Make them just as fresh and clean as possible.

Now cut each month into twenty-eight, thirty, or thirty-one different parts, but don't make up the whole batch at once. Prepare it one day at a time out of these ingredients.

Mix well into each day
- one part of faith,
- one part of patience,

- one part of courage,
- one part of work.

Add to each day

- one part of hope,
- faithfulness,
- generosity,
- kindness.

Blend with

- one part prayer,
- one part meditation,
- one good deed.

Season the whole with a dash of good spirits,
a sprinkle of fun, a pinch of play,
and a cupful of good humor.

Pour all this into a vessel of love.
Cook thoroughly over radiant joy,
garnish with a smile,
and serve with quietness,
unselfishness, and cheerfulness.
You're bound to have a happy new year!

HANNIBAL AMATEUR RADIO CLUB DUES:

You may send your dues to the H.A.R.C., P.O. Box 1522, Hannibal, Mo. 63401, or to S. L. Gilliland, P. O. Box 227, New London, MO, 63459, or you may pay them at the monthly meetings. Meetings are held every 2nd Wednesday of each month. A single membership is $20.00, an additional member of the Family, (Child or Spouse) may be added for an additional $5.00. (I.e. Husband and wife $25.00). Full time Students $5.00. If you are a brand new HAM, membership for the first year is free. Membership dues in the club help pay for repeater repairs, upkeep, newsletters, and other expenses that make our club successful. Our bank account usually totals between $800.00 and $1200.00 plus or minus. We have ongoing monthly expenses of approximately $15.00 for copies of the newsletter and postage to send it to those who do not have computers. We pay dues for our membership in the ARLHS etc. Repeater repairs can come at any time, and one good lightning strike could wipe out the treasury, so we appreciate your support and thank you for your continued membership in the Club.
